Kennedy Now Seen Leading In Battle For Presidency

The Presidential election battle between the Kennedy-Johnson and Nixon-Lodge tickets probably will be decided by developments and breaks which occur during the height of the campaign.

But at this stage, after attending two national conventions and talking to Democratic and Republican leaders from around the nation, this writer would rate Senator John F. Kennedy a slight favorite to be elected the next President of the United States.

Professional clothing thieves, who knew just what they wanted and touched nothing else, apparently got away cleanly with $14,000 worth of better-grade men's suits from the R. H. Stearns Co., at 55 Boylston St., Chestnut Hill.

Police investigators, led by Inspector Charles W. Lynch and Patrolman George F. vin, discovered the burglars broke an eight-foot square window near the front door.

"At the request of hundreds of thinking Newton Republi-cans, I have filed nomination papers as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the House of Representative from the fourth Middlesex district,"

"It is apparent that many Newton voters desire more effective leadership in the Newton delegation at the State House, and, like many communities surrounding the city, they are turning to qualified younger men and women so that the Republican party and its ideals will not disappear in our time.

"The two-party system cannot continue unless the Republicans plan for the future. This fact is paramount. It cannot continue with candidates or office-holders who no longer appeal to the young voters of Republican and Independent leanings."

Rich cited his eight years of service on the Board of Aldermen, said he has served on every Aldermanic Committee and presently is serving on the important Finance Committee.

He is a practising attorney with offices in Newton and has been prominent in numerous activities in the city He is 42 years of age and has children in the Newton schools.

"I have the interest and contacts to fully represent all of the voters of this district," Alderman Rich asserted. "The more than 1000 endorsements which I have already received for the nomination attest to the desires of the Republican voters of the district."

By JOHN M. BILLINSKY, JR.

We all returned home safebut with exciting memories of the trip to Colorado. There were some very unusual happenings — exciting, humorous and tragic — at the Jamboree to vary the usual things like eating, sleeping, getting up at 6 a.m., camp fires every night and to bed about 10 o'clock.

One sad event which had a touch of humor happened when a Scoutmaster noticed the boys in his troop were not doing very well at the obstacle course. So he decided to show his boys how it should be done.

The Scoutmaster started on the course, worked his way across a 10-foot ladder swinging by his hands, ran over a bark-covered log and then started to climb a 10foot wall. His only aid was a fat rope.

Just as he was about to scale the top he fell back-ward and broke his leg in two places.

Other accidents included one boy who broke his leg falling over a tent peg and two or three boys hit in the eye accidentally by bull whips. There was the case of a boy wearing a neckerchief slide of porcupine skin and quills and he got one quill through

Still another injury came in a troop of boys from Florida who brought with them a three-foot long alligator, and a boy was bitten on his wrist.

Despite the few personal Injuries among so many thousands of boys I think everyone had a grand time enjoyed everything

One of the more exciting events included the show by the "Blue Angels" flying over-head. We exchanged meals with boys from other states, and we had a complete rodeo.

Each night we had a camp-fire and every time we had a guest. One night we had a man from Sweden; another night a troop from Utah; other nights we went to regional and sectional campfires.
On the last night we had a mass campfire to which every-one attending the Jamboree came for the closing ceremony.

At this time a short pageant of Boy Scouting in the United States was presented.

At the close of the pageant Boy Scouts from other lands marched atop a huge birth-day cake carrying their native flags and said "Happy Birthday" in their native language, in honor of the 50th birthday of the Boy Scouts in America.

On our trip we also flew, this time in a DC-6 from Denver to Midway in Chicago and a DC-6 converted air coach from Midway to Logan Airport in Boston where we were met by our parents. The boy whose Dad used to drop him off at school and then drive on to work, now has a son who drops him off at work and then drives on to Even Republican politicians privately conceded in Chicago vania are going to come pretty that Kennedy is almost sure to get the 128 electoral votes the southern States and Texas, with Lyndon Johnson as his running mate, and that the 20 electoral votes of Massachusetts and Rhode Island are as good as in his pocket.

Nixon hopes to counter Kennedy's strength in New England, the South and the Southwest by sweeping the Middle West and the Far West.

Then, as the Nixon strategists see it, the outcome of the election will be determined by what happens in such states as New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey which between them have 93 electoral votes.

That was why U. N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was chosen as Nixon's running mate, for Lodge can be a very important campaign factor in the three pivotal states.

275 Centre Street at Newton Corner Temple Revim Seeks To Enroll New Members

Plans for Temple Reyim's summer membership enroll-ment program were made this week at a special meeting of membership committee cap-tains under the chairmanship

"The influx of many Jewish families into the area served by Temple Reyim," said Mr. Idleson, "means that our facilities will be in greater demand than ever, especially for the high holidays this September.

Sol Kaufman Temple president, told the group that "since Temple Reyim was announced as the winner of the New England architectural award for religious buildings, there have been many queries from persons interested in becoming affiliated." The current membership recruitment effort will culminate with an Open House at the Temple, 1860 Washington Street, Newton, on Saturday evening September 10.

Present at the meeting were Rabbi Philip Kieval, spiritual leader of the Temple; Myron Thurman, co-chairman of the Membership Committee; George S. Chaletzky and Manuel Rosenthal, vice-presidents; Joseph Speyer and David Wilson.

Dean Marie Farrell of New-ton announces the Boston University School of Nursing has established a Doctor of Nursing Science degree, the first doctorate in the country which identifies nursing in the degree title.

The program was set up by a Doctoral Committee on Psychiatric Nursing. The committee includes faculty members Rose Godbout of Newton

Upper Falls, asociate professor; Dr. John H. Lavely of Auburndale, professor of philosophy at the College of Liberal Arts and Dr. Elvin Sem-rad of Waban, clinical professor of psychiatry at Harvard School of Medicine.

College Notes Three girls from Newton have been named to the Dean's List at Jackson College of Tufts University for their past semester's work. They are Christie Allan of 44 Barn-stable Rd., West Newton, Kar-la Feinzig of 62 Woodcliff Rd., Newton Highlands and Marsha J. Schwartz of 1600 Commonwealth Ave., West

Rutgers University announces that Mrs. Michele Gilman Hochman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilman of 134 Langdon St., Newton, was on the Dean's List last semester. She majored in Chemistry and received her Bachelor of Arts degree at the June commencement.

Word from Cape Cod is that James Linsay of 144 Day St., Newton, caught a four pound striped bass last week while fishing with Capt. Alan Taber of the "Exorer" out of Rock Harbor, their son Charles M., have re-turned to their West Newton home after a four-weeks motor trip to the west coast. The trip through Texas and Calif-ornia included all the National Parks in the area.

Rubin Epstein of Newton, chairman of the Greater Bos-ton Brandels Club's six summer outing, announces that this year's five-day event will be held at the Griswold Hotel in Groton, Conn. More than 300 club members and their guests are expected to take part in the outing.

Bottomly - Cutler Senate Row Is Headed For Court

Attorney John S. Bottomly declared today that he intends to carry his fight into court in an attempt to prevent State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham from being first on the September primary ballot and from having the notation, "Present Senator," printed below her name on the ballot.

Bottomly emphasized that he is not seeking to have Senator Cutler's name stricken from the ballot. But he maintained that it is misleading to have her listed as the "Present Senator" from the recently created Middlesex-Norfolk senatorial district.

publican nomination for State Senator in the new district is being waged by Senator Cutler, Representative Irene K. Thresher of Newton and torney Bottomly who now ballot or should merely had been name listed in alphabetical order after Bottomly's.

The State Ballot Law Commission, in effect, avoided a showdown on the question

Crystal Lake Swimming to September 5

Newton Centre's Crystal Lake, which provides facilities for more than 1000 swimmers daily, has been undergoing semi-weekly bacteria counts, and has been pronounced quite safe by the Health De-Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson reports that the bacteria count has been ex-tremely low, less than 100. The marginal safe figure is 1100. The Lake was closed for a week earlier this summer because of water pollution.

The Lake staff, directed by Mark Peterson and Paul Kincare, consists of 14 lifeguards, eight bathhouse attendants, and a registered nurse.

The Recreation Department hopes to organize a Crystal Lake swimming team in the month remaining before the Lake closes on Labor Day. Both intra- and inter-lake con-tests would be held. Aid Heart Surgery Boy

ROBERT F. MURPHY

Murphy Pledges No New Taxes If Next Governor

Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy declared today that the main issue on which he is campaigning for the Democratic nomination for Governor is integrity and responsibility in politics.
"Without responsibility in politics, we can't have responsibility in govern-ment," Murphy asserted. Murphy emphasized that he stands by and for the principles and the platform of the Democratic party.

He said that as Lieutenant Governor and before that as a leader in the State Legislature he spoke out and fought for the things he believed to be right.
"I have never sacrificed principles for political expediency; nor do I ever intend to do so," Murphy stated.

Murphy is now completing his second term and fourth year as Lieutenant Governor and in 1953 and 1954 he was the Democratic leader in the House of Representatives.

"I don't believe anyone will challenge the fact that I have a broad and thorough knowledge of the operations of the State government both at the legislative and executive levels," Murphy stated.

"Neither can anyone dispute the statement that I have placed my responsibility to the public above all other considerations," continued Murphy who was referred to as "Mr. Integrity" when he served in the House of Representatives.

Murphy said that one of his pledges to the people of Mass-achusetts is that there will be no new taxes if he is elected the next Governor of Massa-

Lieutenant Governor Murphy was one of the out-spoken opponents of a sales tax, fighting the proposal strenuously in a series of speeches both this year and in 1959.

Murphy pointed out that whenever he has visited other states or other nations in his capacity as Lieutenant Governor he has endeavored to act as a goodwill ambassador and salesman for Massachusetts. He cited that he has endeavored to promote addi-tional shipping through the Port of Boston and to interest various national manufacturing concerns in establishing plants in Massachusetts with a view to providing increased employment opportunities for Bay State citizens.

GEORGE R. FARNUM

On Norumbega Park

Editor, Newton Graphic Dear Sir:

The article appearing in rugged, two-fisted conflict. Mur-phy, Ward, Piemonte, Peabody and Kelly all are aggressive last week's Graphic in ref-erence to Norumbega Park has an ominous ring. The Park is obviously for sale and campaigners. Kennedy plans to let the other five battle it out the only question at the moment is whether or not a pros-pective purchaser can obtain a zoning change by variance or otherwise. I submit that if no application has yet been made or petition filed that it is only a matter of a short time before such action is taken; the value of this land in proximity to Route 128 and the City of Boston is so apparent to industrial and com-mercial real estate developers that I am sure many, many serious overtures have been made to Mr. Farrington in the last 5 years.

This area is certainly the The Board of Aldermen finest recreational park in Metropolitan Boston and has provided recreation, rest and amusement to millions of Greater Boston residents for three generations and longer. For these reasons I suggest that the proper use of this area is not a local Newton problem. There is a state agency created for the purpose of acquiring and maintaining park lands in Metro-politan Boston which is, of The shoe concern wishes to erect an eight-foot sign at 1157 course, the Metropolitan Dis-Washington street, West New trict Commission. He said that a thorough overhall of the operation of State agencies, "with the from private to General in the frills and the fat cut away," is course of his military career, his foremost pledge to the voters of the Commonwealth

Piemonte promised that if elected Governor he will give "an administration based on sound business principles to induce the location in Mas-sachusetts of industries geared to the space era."

"We can bring new industry here only if we demonstrate our willingness to streamling governmental operations and bring about the reduction in the cost of conducting our public agencies so necessary to stabilize our tax structure Piemonte said.
"We boast that research is our richest resource, yet fail to apply our vaunted research into the most vital problem confronting us—our top heavy tax structure" Piemonte con tinued. "We offer new busi ness the availability of the foremost research institutions in the World, while blithely ignoring the cost of operating an industrial plant within the borders of the Common-wealth"

"To help established in dustries to prosper and to bring new industries into this State we must demonstrate social and economic stability instead of the tax deal fad that has sprung up in some of our communities.

Tax deals can be dangerous to the economic health of the communities involved in them and to the entire Common-wealth. "Such deals," Mr. Piemonte said, "can lead only to chaos, disorder, and even bankruptcy, with the cities and towns of the Commonwealth pitted against each other in a fantastic give away program to attract new in dustry."

"A sound government is sound business" Piemonte said, "and sound business at-tracts capital venture. As your Governor I promise to put our government on a sound business basis."

The Commission rejected the complaint filed by Bot but did so on the ground that Bottomly has not filed the necessary certificate of party enrollment and did not act on the merits of the Attorney Bottomly, in ex plaining his contention, said in part:

"Let it be clearly stated that it never has been my in tention to attempt to have Mrs. Cutler's name ruled off the ballot. I have sought only to have her name put in its proper place in accordance with the law. My purpose has been to make clear voters the status of all candi dates for the Republican nom ination for State Senator in the new Norfolk and Middle sex District.

"Mrs. Cutler stated on her nomination papers that she is the present senator from the Norfolk and Middlesex Dis-trict. The Secretary of State's office indicated it would treat Mrs. Cutler as the incumbent because of her self descrip-tion as 'present Senator' un-less instructed to the contrary by the Ballot Law Commission or the Court.

"Chapter 53, Section 34 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth provides that candidates for office shall be list. ed alphabetically on the ballot except that candidates for renomination or re-election shall be listed first.

"The recent redistricting law created the entirely new Nor-folk and Middlesex State Sen atorial District by taking from the old Second Norfolk District the towns of Dedham. Needham and Wellesley and adding thereto from the old Middlesex and Suffolk District Wards 2, 3, 4, 5 and 8 of the City of Newton and from the old Middlesex and Norfolk District the Town of Weston. Incidentally, neither of my op-ponents—Mrs. Cutler in the Senate and Mrs. Thresher in the House—were recorded against that bill which dealt such a grievous blow to the Republican Party in Massachusetts. KEVIN H. WHITE

Kevin H. White Campaigns For Sec'y. of State

Former Assistant District Attorney Kevin H. White is waging a vigorous drive for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State.

He was endorsed for the office by the Democratic pre-primary convention held at the Boston Arena in June.

Attorney White is the son of City Councillor Joseph C. White of West Roxbury who was stricken seriously ill in Los Angeles just as he was preparing to return home from the Democratic national convention after working vigorously for the nomination of Senator John F. Kennedy for President.

Councillor White is now reported on the road to re-covery and is expected to return home in about a week or 10 days. For a period, however, his name was carried on the danger list of the Ce dars of Lebanon Hospital.

Attorney Kevin White is a graduate of Williams College

GROWING?

It's for you to say!

Of course, the cost of living keeps many worthy people stripped. But many folks who have a little surplus income let it get away wastefully and foolishly in many directions.

It's a temptation to keep up with the neighbors, but maybe the neighbors don't have much common sense, and it may be better to set your own standard of living. Get the happy habit of saving a little money every week or every month at Watertown Federal.

Kahalas Launches Re-election Bid For Councillor

Governor's Councillor Abraham H. Kahalas of Dorchester has announced his candidacy for re-election in the revised Second Councillor District.

"The personal problems of the citizens of each town vary," said Kahalas in his announce-ment. "In addition, the major, highly important problems of industrial development, emdevelopment, employment, highways and transportation must be solved.

"Responsible representation demands that the problems of each community be considered realistically in the light of local requirements, and it is with this purpose in mind that I say there must be personal service for all. "Only in this way can we hope to achieve a co-ordinated program for progress. If the problems of each town are considered and solved, then the problems of an area can be solved, and we can go forward in enhancing economic opportunity for our people and achieving our goals of peace and security so essential to the maintenance of our democratic system of free enter-

"I mention these matters to emphasize the importance of the Executive Council." continued Kahalas. "A Governor's Councillor must understand the requirements of our Commonwealth. He must consider the will of the people of his district, and he must be determined to decide the merits of all proposals and programs in the common interest.

Governor's Councillor must also recognize that it is his responsibility to keep the citizens of his district informed on important issues as they arise. I intend to continue to pursue this policy." The revised Second Council

Newton West Shoots For Title in Staten Island Battle Today

Newton West's fine baseball team, eight victories behind it and hopeful of ultimately winning the Little League World Series, will be seeking a regional title in a game today (Thursday) at Staten Island, N. Y.

If the Garden City youngsters continue their winning ways in the Staten Island regional playoffs, they then move on next week to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

GOP State Senate Struggle Draws Widespread Attention

Of all the Republican primary fights in this section of Massachusetts, the one commanding the greatest public attention is for the GOP nomination for the State Senate in the new Middlesex-Norfolk senatorial Contenders in a lively three-cornered battle are State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham, Representative Irene K. Thresher of Newton and Attorney John S. Bottomly of Wellesley.

Side issues stemming from the contest have been carried not only to the State Ballot Law Commission but also into the Supreme Court.

Bottomly is challenging Mrs. Cutler's right to be listed first on the ballot and to have the notation, "Present Senator," under her name on the ballot.

Thief Uses Ploy To Burgle Bow-And-Arrow Shop

Police investigating a re-ported burglary at the Au-buradio Television Service, 438 Lexington street, Au-burndale, discovered Sunday night that the establishment next door, an archery shop, was the real object of the intruder.

Apparently uninterested in the contents of the television store, the thief entered the Tepee Archery Tackle Store at 442 Lexing ton street through the cellar and by scaling a seven-foot cement wall. He made off with about $500 worth of supplies, according to pro-prietor Eban Baker.

Mr. Baker told Patrolmen Albert R. Flanagan and Richard T. Dunn, and Sgt. William R. Veduccio, offi-cers who investigated the crime, that the thief has ex-tensive knowledge of archery because "only the most expensive equipment was taken."

Monday's encounter followed the capture of the state title by the Newton-ites at East Longmeadow on Saturday. There they eked out a 2-1 victory over the Weymouth Federals on the glistening pitching of spunky Bobby Keefe.

The Weymouth club put the pressure on in the fifth when they pushed across a run and loaded the bases with only one out. Keefe whiffed the next batter and retired a pinch-hitter on three straight pitches.

Brad Haywood belted a clutch Texas-league single in the opening frame to rescue Britt and Hollis Perry with Newton's only tallies.

Political Highlights

His challenge is based on the fact that Mrs. Cutler was elected to the Senate in 1958 from the second Norfolk district but is presently running in the newly created Middlesex-Norfolk district.

Representative Thresher, former vice chairman of the Republican State Commission and for years prominent in the GOP, has remained apart from the skirmishing between Bottomly and Mrs. Cutler but is campaigning energetically, especially in her home city of Newton.

Victory in the GOP primary will be tantamount to election, and the race will attract increasing interest as Senator Cutler, Representative Thresher and Attorney Bottomly come down the home stretch.

Primary Battles May Aid Democratic State Ticket

Senator John F. Kennedy is a striking example of the political fact that a candidate for nomination often benefits and gains momentum from a winning fight.

The same thing may apply to the members of the Democratic State ticket who emerge victorious from the Sept. 13 primary while their prospective Republican opponents are sitting by waiting for their contests to begin.

Up to the time of the Democratic national convention, Vice President Richard M. Nixon was shown leading Senator Kennedy on the public opinion polls.

Political experts, however, believe that Kennedy overtook and passed Nixon during the Democratic conclave. They feel that Nixon did not catch up to Kennedy during the Republican convention.

The theme of the gathering is to be "Issues of Faith." NEFTY members will divide into committees on Worship, Cultural, Program, Project. and Communication aspects of modern Judaism.

Newton members who will attend are Ed Bayard, Andrew Hyde, David Mersky, Stephen Osborne, David Shaw, Errol Stone, Joseph Wiesenfeld, Sue Berch, Susan Chipman, Carolyn Elson, Barbara Fields, Gail Harvey, Bonna Pass, Lois Robin, Andi Sacher, Sacher, Margery Sokolsky, Karen Stone, and Susan posed Democrat is Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr.

By contrast there is only one contest for a spot on the publican State ticket.

The sole candidate en-dorsed by the GOP conclave who is being challenged for nomination in the primary is Attorney Walter J. Trybulski, Walsh, Medford real estate and insurance broker.

Where the Democratic State Committee will adopt a policy of strict neutrality in the flicts for places on the Democratic State ticket, not even endorsing Governor Furcolo, the official Republican organization will throw the weight of its strength, support and prestige behind Trybulski.

That incidently, reflects the differences in the attitudes of the two political parties toward the pre-primary State Convention. It is why most Republicans abide by the mandates of their State Conventions, while most democratic politicos pay little heed to the actions of their conclave.

Except for Trybulski, however, the members of the Republican State ticket will be command scant attention during the primary campaigning

A few of the more prominent GOP figures such as Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, John A. Volpe, the Republican candidates for Governor, and Congressman Laurence Curtis will be able to keep themselves in the public eye because of their positions and official actions.

But most of the newspaper headlines will go to the Democrats engaged in fights which will be settled when the voters troop to the polls for the priwill be shadowed in comparawilltive obscurity until the final election campaign starts.

Robert A. Gorfinkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Gorfinkle of 199 Parker street, Newton Centre, has received a Kennison Fellowship and an Assistantship from the Graduate Division of the New York Uni versity School of Law.

Mr. Gorfinkle, a cum laude graduate of Boston University and a June graduate of Boston College School of Law, plans to specialize in taxation.

Last year, Mr. Gorfinkle re ceived the second prize in the estate planning and drafting contest sponsored by the Bos-ton Safe Deposit and Trust Company. He also won the John F. Cremens Award, given to the B. C. Law School's most promising graduate.

Proposes New Suburban View Of Center City

"Progressive suburban attitudes to urban problems can remove some of the serious roadblocks to Massachusetts prosperity in the sixties," declared Bertram A. Drucker Boston real estate expert, to the Newton Rotary Club Monday night at the Braeburn Country Club.

Mr. Drucker, Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of the Greater Boston Real Es tate Board, advanced the familiar thesis that "you cannot have sick cities and economically sound suburbs."

To cure the economic "sick ness" Mr. Drucker suggested five-part program which a five-part program which dealt with revising the "archaic" tax system, and initiating "large and imaginative" urban renewal programs.

Residents Roll With MTA Walkout Punch

Thousands of Newton residents who commute to their jobs in Boston each day, and untold numbers of students, women shoppers and movie-goers, were caught by the paralyzing MTA strike which came without warning Monday afternoon.

Men and women who work in Boston, and Summer school students who commute to the Hub via the Highland Branch and Commonwealth Avenue lines of the MTA, were left standing at the curb when the trek home began in the hot, humid atmosphere.

Most of them were unaware of the transportation strike on the rapid transit lines, buses and trolleys. Many hurried to South Station and clambered aboard jammed trains over the B&A line to Newtonville.

Many quued up at public telephones to call home; to tell of their plight and perhaps arrange for someone at home to drive into Boston's traffic mess to pick up the wage earner. Perhaps the wife or relative could borrow a neighbor's car, or the family had a second car. The car in which the stranded Newtonite drove to the MTA parking lot so innocently Monday morning was still in the parking lot — locked up tight with hundreds of other driverless cars.

Hardest hit were those whose wife and children were at the beach, and there was no one home to call. The more affluent were fortunate to find room in crowed Boston hotels; others were lucky enough to hitchike a ride, and some walked a considerable distance before they did get a ride.

Some Newtonites related that they heard just before 5 p.m. on Monday that the MTA strike was in effect and were able to arrange rides to the parking lot or directly home from a fellow-employee. Others told of coming to work with only a nominal

"Secret Weapon" Ready Weeks Junior For Labor Day Speeders

The last big holiday spree of the summer, the long Labor Day weekend is just ahead. Synonymous bound for fun areas nearby and at long distances from the Weeks Junior High home. with Labor Day are the rolling legions of motorists ever, many Newtonites were able to arrange for car-pool rides into the Hub-rides in which cars blew their radiators and drivers their tops because of the terrific traffic jams in Boston.

Others went back to the old E&A commuting days which resulted in jammed aisles and loss of seats for many regular riders.

The Riverside parking lot, whch has spaces for 2,000 autos, was as deserted as an airplane landing strip Tuesday morning. An estimated 26,000 commuters ride the 12-mile line into Boston daily.

The B&A added extra coaches on its 7:49, 8:09, and 8:24 a.m. trains Tuesday morning. The 8:50 train had its usual number of coaches.

Newton traffic officials had expected there might be an increase in traffic through the city because of the MTA strike. Regular traffic officers on duty at key points said there was a slight increase in Tuesday morning traffic, but there was no congestion, and every-thing moved smoothly. The real jam came much nearer the heart of the Hub.

And of course those who weren't able to arrange a ride by auto to Boston and lived too far to walk for a possible ride on a commuter train remained home; but Hub business firms reported a very small percentage of absenextinct Hawaii volcano, has been a national guard reservation.

What About the Public?

It's obvious that there was much more to the MTA strike than the refusal of a bus operator to work two minutes overtime

The MTA employees have a right to air whatever grievances they may have and have them settled. But the manner in which they abruptly halted service on the transit system, leaving hundreds of thousands of persons stranded in downtown Boston or at other points away from their homes can only be criticized and condemned.

Thousands of persons in this community were unreasonably inconvenienced by the sudden walkout of the MTA employees.

Elderly persons and children with only a small amount of money in their posession found themselves almost unbelievable, and their confronted with a situation with which they were un- gentleness was equally imable to cope.

Nurses were unable to reach hospitals to minister the sick and the dying.

A difficult and dangerous situation was created, and it was fortunate that it did not have even worse repercussions.

Whatever grievances the MTA employees have certainly were not directed against the riding and bill-paying public. But it was the public who suffered from the cessation of service.

From the standpoint of the MTA employees themselves, who certainly must desire the public goodwill, the walkout was handled in about the worst possible

Senator Cutler Cites Record In Reelection Bid

A drive for the reelection of State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham was being made throughout the new Norfolk-Middlesex senatorial district this week by her support-

Senator Cutler, whose district was drastically changed by the Gerrymander bill pushed through the Legislature earlier this year, is making a vigorous campaign for Republican renomination in the Sept. 13 primary.

During her service in the State Legislature Mrs. Cutler has been responsible for many progressive changes in the laws of the Commonwealth.

Jury service for women, reforms of the State's penal laws, advances in public health, civil service and public welfare legislation have resulted from bills sponsored by Senator Cutler or from her service on special commissions at the State House, she pointed out in reviewing her public

Senator Cutler cited that she also has done much to advance the careers of prom-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24-Three major bills passed by the House in July awaited Senate action when it reconvened for the August session: minimum wage, medical care for the elderly, and the Mutual Security appropriation

The minimum wage bill which was reported to the House in July by the Committee on Education and Labor upped the minimum wage from 1.00 an hour to $1.25 an hour in three stages and increased coverage. But the House accepted an amendment cutting the increase to $1.15 an hour and containing less sweeping provisions as to the positions covered.

Last week the Senate restored the bill to substantially its original form. The House will still have to pass on this change, probably in a conference between the branches.

The question of what jobs should be covered by federal regulation of minimum wage is controversial. The right of the federal government to intervene in this field stems from the constitutional provision granting Congress the Clock and Watch Reneis power "to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states, and with the Indian tribes."

This power applies principally to interstate business, rather than to intrastate business, and the federal minimum wage law has heretofore ap- Floors 58 plied to persons "engaged" in interstate commerce.

Retall and service establishments were long considered to be intrastate business. But the more sweeping coverage of the bill reported to the House included persons in business which "affected" interstate commerce. As this might apply to almost any job, there was a further provision that the bill should apply only to establishments doing a gross business of over a million dollars a year.

Opponents of this proposed new coverage claimed that it stretched the Constitution too far; and also urged that owing to the different conditions prevailing in different sections prevailing in different sections prevailing in different sections prize to the different sections prevailing in different sections prevailing in different sections prevailing and Heating 45 Retail and service estabprevailing in different sections of the country, state regulation was preferable, except when there was an overriding national interest.

when there was an overriding national interest.

The House-passed bill on medical care for the elderly also awaited Senate action when it reconvened in August.

The House did not adopt the approach of the Forand Bill, which keyed medical care to the Social Security Old Age and Survivors Insurance sysand Survivors Insurance system. It provided medical car for the elderly under a system as a system of the elderly under a syst tem somewhat similar to the present Old Age Assistance program. Efforts were made in the Senate to substitute or add the approach of the Forand Bill.

The appropriation for Mutual Security also awaited Senate action. It had been severely cut by the House, and the Senate was expected to restore the cuts and perhaps also pass a new au-thorization for dealing with Latin American countries.
